This one-day workshop in soft pastel will focus on several techniques for painting different types of trees. Methods that will be used to render trees in the landscape include watercolor under wash, oil under wash, and pan pastel under painting.

You will be painting your favorite trees (or the ones that present the biggest problems to you) so bring the photographs that you want to use. Shirley will also have some photographic references.

You will need a small set of pastels plus whatever you want to use as an underpainting – watercolor, oil, pan, or plain pastels with a solvent. If you are going to use watercolor, remember that your paper must be mounted. You will need at least one sheet of pastel paper 11”x14”. Shirley will have some papers available if you let her know what type you would prefer.

Shirley Anderson is a Charter Member of the Arkansas Pastel Society, as well as a Signature Member. Her work may be seen at the Art Group Gallery in Little Rock, AR, and the Central Park Fusion Restaurant in Hot Springs, AR.
